

Academic-Industry Matchmaking (AIM) Day for Extended Reality and Trust, Identity, Privacy, Security

7 May 2026 | etc.venues Chancery Lane, London

Navigating Trust, Identity, Privacy, Safety, & Security in the Convergence Era

About the Event

SPRITE+ AIM Day connects industry innovators and academic experts to explore how emerging Extended and Virtual Reality technologies intersect with Trust, Identity, Privacy, Safety, and Security.

This is your opportunity to shape the next wave of secure and trusted immersive technologies, find academic partners to solve your R&D challenges, and access dedicated SPRITE+ collaboration funding.

Why Attend?

- Present your organisation's challenges and explore tailored academic secondment partnerships.
- Connect with leading researchers in Trust, Identity, Privacy, Security and Extended and Virtual Reality Innovation.
- Access up to £10,000 SPRITE+ funding for short-term collaborative research projects and funded academic visits.
- Discover new talent through funded PhD placements.
- Expand your innovation network across public, private, and academic sectors.

How It Works

- Reverse-pitches from organisations presenting their innovation and research challenges at the intersection of Extended and Virtual Reality and Trust, Identity, Privacy, Safety, and Security.
- Structured matchmaking meetings to explore collaboration opportunities between academics and organisations.
- Networking sessions to build partnerships and identify research alignment.
- Funding opportunities for projects that address real-world challenges at the intersection of Extended Reality and Trust, Identity, Privacy, Security.
